Federal regulations require that flood insurance be in place prior to consummating a loan on any building taken as collateral which is located in a specified flood hazard area. To comply with the requirement, a flood determination must be ordered on every loan in which a building is taken as collateral. A “building” for purposes of this section means a structure, including a mobile, or manufactured home, that is:

- Permanently affixed to the property,
- Has load-bearing walls and roof.

If any building located on the property being secured by the loan is located in a special flood hazard area “A” or “V”, as listed on the determination, flood insurance is required. The following steps must also be completed:

- Notice of the flood determination must be disclosed to the consumer, along with a record that the consumer received such notice.
- If the property is in a special flood hazard area zone “A” or “V”, prompt notice to the consumer that flood insurance will be required,
- Prior to the consummation of the transaction, BE IN MORTGAGE also requires.
 - Evidence of 1st year flood insurance premiums paid in full,
 - Insurance effective date prior to the date of consummation, and an
 - Escrow account established to pay for subsequent years of insurance coverage prior to the consummation of the transaction.

A loan transaction will not be consummated until a property which is determined to require flood insurance has insurance that covers the applicable special flood hazard area zone, and has the minimum amount of coverage in place. The minimum amount of coverage required must equal the lesser of:

- The outstanding principal balance of the loan,
- The maximum amount available under the NFIP for the type of structure, or:
 - $250,000 for residential property structures,
 - $500,000 for nonresidential structures, and
 - $500,000 for non-condominium residential buildings of 5+ units
- The insurable value of the property as determined by the replacement cost value as determined by flood insurance policy.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ If replacement cost value is not listed on the flood insurance policy, the insurance agent will need to be contacted to obtain the information.● Detached structures on the property which are not a residence do not require flood insurance.● Flood insurance policies not issued by an insurance company which participates in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), must have the policy reviewed to ensure that the policy meets, or exceeds, FEMA guidelines. Deductibles The minimum deductible cannot be less than the standard NFIP, i.e. by a Preferred Risk Policy (PRP) is $1,000 each for both building and contents coverage if the building coverage is less than or equal to $100,000; if the building coverage is over $100,000, the deductible is $1,250, regardless of the insured building's construction date compared to the initial flood insurance rate map (FIRM) date. A contents-only policy will have a $1,000 deductible. NFIP Funding Lapses Based on current law, the government funding required to operate the NFIP has an expiration date. When funding expires, the NFIP cannot accept applications until a new bill authorizing funding is enacted. In the event that funding for the NFIP has expired, the following rules apply: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● Loans requiring flood insurance may be closed if:<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ An application for flood insurance through the NFIP was made prior to the lapse in funding and the premium payment is received by NFIP within 30 days of closing from the settlement agent, or○ Flood insurance is obtained through a private flood insurer as defined in this section.● Loans requiring flood insurance may not be closed until NFIP funding is renewed if:<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ The consumer chooses an NFIP policy, and○ The application for flood insurance through the NFIP was made after the lapse in funding. Hazard Insurance Hazard insurance, otherwise known as Homeowners Insurance (HOI), insures against loss due to fire or other hazards. Prior to consummating a loan, a hazard insurance policy must be in place on the property. Ensure the following requirements are met prior to consummation. The minimum amount of coverage required must equal the lesser of: <ul style="list-style-type: none">● The loan amount, or

 - If the insurable value is not listed on the hazard insurance declarations page, the insurance agent will need to be contacted to obtain the information
 - Declaration page must indicate the actual value insured if unable to obtain the replacement cost estimator (RCE)

A deductible is the amount an insured party must pay prior to an insurance company issuing reimbursement for any loss. BE IN MORTGAGE requires the insurance policy to have a deductible that adheres to the following:

- Maximum deductible $2500 or 1% of loan amount
 - Loans under $250,000 max deductible is $2500 or less.
 - i.e. $150,000 loan has max deductible of $2500
 - Loans over $250,000, max deductible is 1% of loan amount.
 - i.e. $300,000 loan has $3000 max deductible
- Deductibles more than specified above must be approved by underwriting.

Hazard insurance must cover the appropriate persons, property, and amounts. The policy must also cover against loss in a certain timeframe. Therefore, the following are required:

- Policy must have an effective date on or before the consummation date.
- Policy must list the correct property address.
- Policy must list the consumer.
- Lender must be listed as on the policy as being the mortgagee.
 - Must list Lender's Name – "ISAOA".
 - Insurance policy must be equal to or greater than the loan balance.
- Condominiums require hazard insurance to cover the structure, as well as coverage to repair the interior space.

Condominiums and Homeowner Associations

Condominiums, and homeowner associations (HOA) often have an insurance policy which covers the entire building, and which is paid by the monthly dues. These are called master policies. In situations involving a master insurance policy, the following rules apply:

- Condominiums require a policy covering interior finished (H06 policy) in an amount sufficient to repair the condominium to the condition it was in at origination. Policy must include estimated replacement cost.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Condominium, or HOA, master insurance policy may meet hazard insurance requirement if the coverage per unit is equal to or greater than the loan balance<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Condominium, or HOA, master insurance policies do not have to meet the deductible requirements listed• Consumers will be required to obtain supplemental private hazard insurance policies if the condominium, or HOA, master insurance policies do not meet the minimum coverage requirements Mortgagee Clause Lender must be listed as on all insurance policies as follows: Lender's name - ISAOA Address City, State, Zip Prepayment Penalty BE IN MORTGAGE products do not have prepayment penalties. Process to Add or Remove Borrowers Adding to a loan at any time during the loan process is generally not acceptable and requires a new application. Removing a borrower without requiring a new application is considered on a case-by-case basis. Contact your Account Executive for more information. Title Insurance Title insurance covers against loss relating to intervening interests in property. Title companies search through the records of government entities in order to determine if any interests could arise which would affect the security interest of the proposed loan. Intervening interests can include, but are not limited to, errors in transfers in ownership, tax liens, prior mortgages, and construction liens. BE IN MORTGAGE requires a title policy insuring the proposed lien is in first priority on every loan prior to consummation. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Basic Requirements Title insurance policies must meet the following minimum requirements prior to consummation of the transaction:<ul style="list-style-type: none">○ Title insurance policy must cover the full loan amount.○ Lender ISAOA must be listed as the insured.○ The property legal description must match other documentation in the file, including the appraisal, purchase agreement, and tax bill.○ Must provide current and unexpired CPL. - UTMA and UGMA Assets

The Uniform Transfer to Minors Act (UTMA) and Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA) allow minors to own assets including securities. Individuals can establish UGMA accounts on behalf of minors or beneficiaries, eliminating the need for an attorney to establish a special trust fund. A UTMA account is a way to open an investment account for a child. Since minors can't legally own assets, a UTMA holds assets on a custodial basis for a child until age 18. Using funds improperly can trigger various penalties, some quite severe. Uniform Transfer to Minors Accounts carry certain tax advantages, but their structure also can be limiting.

Due to the unique nature of these types of assets, these funds may be used as outlined below:

1. These accounts, if owned outside of BE IN MORTGAGE, may be used for down payment but will be treated as "gift funds".
2. These accounts may NOT be used with the Bank Statement Income / Asset Depletion or Ready Asset programs.
3. Any borrower who has a UTMA or UGMA account at BE IN MORTGAGE may NOT use those funds as assets, down payment or gift funds.

- Earnest Money Deposit

The deposit on the sales contract (earnest money) for the purchase of the security property is an acceptable source of funds for both the down payment and the closing costs.

Verification of source of funds

- Large earnest money deposits (those greater than 5% of sales price) will be closely evaluated.

Receipt of the deposit must be verified by:

- Copy of canceled check;
- Copy of check not canceled with financial institution record(s) to evidence check cleared;
- Escrow agent/attorney's letter acknowledging receipt of funds.

- Anticipated Sales Proceeds

Sales Proceeds from Real Estate Owned Pending Sale

- Obtain a copy of the preliminary Closing Disclosure from the sale of the existing home for review.
- The source of funds must be verified at closing by obtaining a copy of the fully executed Closing Disclosure/Settlement Statement on the existing home before or simultaneously with the settlement of the new home, showing sufficient cash proceeds to consummate the purchase of the new home.

Corporate relocation plans

•When the borrower's employer assumes responsibility for paying off the existing mortgage in connection with a corporate relocation plan, obtain a copy of the executed buyout agreement to document the source of funds. A photocopy of a sales contract or a listing agreement is not considered an acceptable source of verification of proceeds from the sale.

- Sale of Personal Assets

Proceeds from the sale of personal assets are an acceptable source of funds for the down payment, closing costs and reserves provided the individual purchasing the asset is not a party to the property sale transaction or the mortgage financing transaction.

- Cash

Cash to close from actual cash deposited with a financial institution which is not a gift may be used for any program for which it is not excluded. In order to ensure the funds are not a loan which must be included in the borrower's debt to income ratio, as well as to protect against risk, significant cash deposited with a financial institution must adhere to the following requirements:

- Letter of explanation from the borrower on how the funds were saved, including the timeframe over which the funds were saved.
- Review by process underwriting to determine the reasonableness of the explanation on a case-by-case basis

- Gift Funds

Cash to close may come from gifted funds on any program for which it is not excluded, such as:

- Rental/Investment properties,
- Vacant Land

In order to ensure the funds are not a loan which must be included in the borrower's debt to income ratio, as well as to protect against risk. Gifted funds must be processed by a depository institution prior to being provided to the settlement agent, and must be evidenced by a letter which meet the following requirements:

- Specify the dollar amount of the gift;
- Specify the date the funds were transferred;
- Include a statement that no repayment is expected;
- Include the donor's name, address, telephone number, relationship to borrower; and
- Bear the donor's signature.

Fraud Alerts & Regulatory Messages	Whenever a fraud alert is reflected on a credit report, you have an obligation to verify that the applicant is indeed who they say they are and you must do your due diligence to obtain their permission to proceed with the credit application. Types of fraud alerts include: Credit Freeze A credit freeze prohibits potential new creditors from accessing your credit history. In these situations, the only way a creditor can access the consumer’s information is if the consumer temporarily lifts the “freeze” to allow the access. Placing a credit freeze does not affect a person’s credit score – nor does it keep them from obtaining their free annual credit report, or from buying their credit report or score. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • For a Credit Freeze, the Lender must contact the consumer and have them contact the credit reporting company to remove the freeze. A new soft pull can be pulled by Be In Mortgage when lifted to confirm pricing. Initial Fraud Alert When a consumer suspects he or she has been or may be a victim of identity theft through a phishing scam or a missing wallet, he or she may request that an initial fraud alert be placed on his or her credit report. The initial alert remains on the consumer’s report for 90 days and requires that potential creditors use “reasonable policies and procedures” to verify the consumer’s identity before granting credit in the consumer’s name.

- For initial fraud alerts, Lender must ensure a telephone number is listed on the alert on the credit report and that there is an accurate and current phone number listed on the 1003. If there is no phone number listed on the alert, Lender must contact the consumer and have them contact the credit reporting company to add their phone number. A new soft pull can be pulled by Be In Mortgage to confirm pricing.
- • If the alert includes a phone number, Lender must contact the borrower at the phone number listed on the credit report to verify their identity at the phone number. A log of this conversation must be submitted with loan file.

Note: Only the number issued on the credit report may be used to contact the borrower.

Extended Fraud Alert

A consumer may request an extended Fraud Alert be placed on his or her credit when identity theft has been confirmed and supported by an actual police report filing. The extended alert remains for seven years and automatically adds the name to the DoNotCall list. This removes the name from marketing lists for pre- screened credit offers for five years. Potential creditors are required to contact the consumer or meet with the consumer in person to verify the identity of the applicant prior to issuing credit in the consumer’s name.

- For an extended fraud alert, Lender will make contact with the applicant utilizing the telephone number listed on the alert on the credit report. If there is no phone number listed on the alert or contact cannot be made utilizing the number in the alert, Lender must contact the consumer and have them contact the credit reporting company to add or correct their phone number. A new soft pull can then be pulled by Be In Mortgage to confirm pricing.
- Lender must contact the borrower at the phone number listed on the credit report to verify their identity and verify the submission of the application at the phone number listed. A log of this conversation must be submitted with loan file.

Note: The number issued on the credit report must be used to contact the borrower.

Active-Duty Alert

	A member of the military being deployed to active duty may request that an “active-duty alert” be placed on his/her credit report by contacting one of the nationwide consumer reporting companies. Only one agency needs to be contacted as they are required to report the request to the other two agencies. The alert is placed on the consumer’s report for one year but can be removed sooner when requested by the consumer. If deployment is to last longer than one year, the consumer may request another alert be added upon expiration of the initial alert. Upon the alert being added to the consumer’s report, he/she is automatically removed from marketing lists which will cease prescreened offers for credit or insurance. When a Lender sees an active duty alert on a credit report, Lender must verify the identity of the applicant before issuing credit in the applicant’s name. Since contacting the deployed individual may not be possible, the law allows the active military person to assign a personal representative to place or remove the active duty alert. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lender must contact the borrower at the phone number listed on the credit report to verify their identity at the phone number. A log of this conversation must be submitted with loan file.
